ROYAL FEMALE ORPHANAGE

BEDDINGTON, CROYDON.

Its Purpose.

1. To provide a home for 150 poor fatherless girls (aged from 7 to 16) from any part of the United Kingdom, with full maintenance, education and training, and a good situation on leaving at the age of 16, with a suitable reward after 2 years' satisfactory service.

Its Record.

1. Founded on 14th March, 1758, the Institution has, during the last 167 years, given to 4,063 fatherless girls the shelter of a good home, the average stay of each child being 8 years.
2. The majority of these girls at the age of 16 have been placed out in good situations, whilst 1,379 have received rewards for the first two years' satisfactory service.
3. The Institution was almost the first to admit the daughters of those who fell in the Great War, and their number reached 40. Of the present inmates 30 are War Orphans.
4. Orphan girls have been received from almost every town and village in the Kingdom, London contributing over 800.

Its Need.

1. Being without Endowment or State Aid, and with an assured Income of only £1,700, it needs a further £4,500 each year to feed, clothe, educate and maintain the children.
2. New Annual Subscribers of One Guinea upwards are urgently needed, the present revenue from this source being under £900.
3. The building being large and very old (built in 1492 as the Mansion of the Carèw family) it needs at least a further £1,000 a year to keep it in a proper condition. At the present time only temporary repairs are being carried out, the ordinary income being required for everyday needs.
